

Information in response to the new general recommendations for Region Stockholm regarding Covid-19 (October 29)

Fotografiska closely follows the restrictions issued by the Public Health Agency of Sweden regarding our operations and Covid-19. Due to the new general recommendations for Region Stockholm presented on October 29, Fotografiska has decided to implement additional measures. Fotografiska takes the spread of infection seriously and is happy to take its responsibility. New measures will be introduced continually and may be subject to change. We kindly ask for your understanding in this matter.

Fotografiska remains open but is implementing additional measures

- As of October 29, we are reducing the maximum number of guests per time slot from 50 to 25 to reduce the number of people visiting our 3300 m<sup>2</sup> premises at the same time.
- No drop-in tickets are being sold. That is, you cannot turn up at the museum without a pre-purchased ticket.
  - We are reintroducing time-limited tickets that allow a 90-minute museum visit.
  - You can still eat lunch here at Fotografiska, but we are only accommodating a limited number of diners. This means drop-in only Monday to Sunday. Dinner reservations can be made as usual for now.
  - Even if you have booked a table, you are not allowed to turn up early to wait in the restaurant.
- We have additional museum attendants on duty for the time being to ensure a safe and reassuring flow of guests through the building.
  - We are reintroducing automatic messages over the PA system to remind guests to keep their distance in the museum
  - Guided tours will only be available on weekdays and for no more than 8 people per tour.
    - We can offer digital guided tours. Email us at visning@fotografiska.se for more information.

Measures previously implemented by Fotografiska also remain in place

- Floor markings reminding you to keep your distance
  - We have placed floor markings throughout the building to make it easy, straightforward, and practical to keep the appropriate distance. All guests are requested to keep a distance of 1.5 meters from each other.
    - Hand sanitizer and cleaning
- We have made hand sanitizer available where we believe our guests may need or want to use it.
  - We are also cleaning the premises more regularly to ensure that you are met by a sparklingly clean environment during your visit.
    - We have reduced the number of tables in the restaurant
