Khao Yai

Travel Guide

Khao Yai is one of the most picturesque regions that this beautiful country has to offer, and the best news is that it's only located a short 3 hours drive away from Bangkok. It's the perfect little getaway that's both fun for families, and romantic for couples.

It's the cutest province filled with all kinds of different activities that's great for both types of travellers whichever you are. This idyllic town has many exciting attractions for a fantastic holiday – from vineyards with mountain views and fun garden, to adventurous locales like cowboy-themed park valley winery and Khao Yai's famed National Park.

There's no reason to put off the trip of a lifetime. Pack your bags and follow us to these wonderful yet sometimes odd resorts in the amazing destination of Khao Yai!

Weather

The best time to visit is during the winter season between November to February. You'll really get to enjoy the cold weather at Khao Yai. This is when the weather is absolutely perfect, and waterfalls actually have water in them.

Currency

The official currency of Thailand is the Thai baht and has several fractions. Starting from 1, 2, 5 and 10 baht in coins. Then 20, 50, 100 and 1,000 baht in the form of a bank note.

Then for currency denominations below Thailand baht is satang (Like cents in USD currency) with a value of 100 satang per baht. These days, there are only 25 satang and 50 satang coins. Satang are rarely used anymore for most transactions.

The most common coin in Thailand is 10 baht. The most common note is 100 baht.
